Oggetto: fasep wheel aligner

To whom it may concern – since purchasing our Fasep aligner we have nothing but praise for its performance and ease of use.

Our technicians are now eager to do alignments and our service advisors are confident in up-selling alignments knowing that lead time is less than half what it used to be . Because it paid for itself in a very short time other dealers in our group have also purchased this model .

Frank and his team did a great job in setting up and training our staff and are always readily available for any queries we may have .

Keep up the good work.
